How we use your information at Meaningful Lives

We ask for information about you to help us support you.

We only ask for information we need and we'll tell you why we need it.

We make your own file on our system. We keep it safe and secure.

You can ask for your information and we will give it to you.

We only share your information with people who help support you.

We won't share your information unless you say it's ok.

When you don't need us any more, we must still keep your information for 7 years. It's the law.

After 7 years we destroy your information.

If any information we have is not right, you can tell us and we will fix it.
